New finishes.

For an electric system including electronic control solutions offering complete aesthetic coordination with the other types of controls, Eikon Tactil cover plates are now available in various finishes including not only crystal, but also solid wood, natural leather, carved stone and Corian®.

Natural (solid wood).

Three different woods, adding a modern, natural feel to any setting: Italian walnut, with an intense dark brown; white oak, clear and fresh with distinctive veining; wengé, dark, warm and powerful like its homeland Africa. A prized and luxurious material featuring unique grains that vary from piece to piece. A distinctive feature for a cover plate with great personality.

31 Italian walnut

32 White oak

33 Wengé

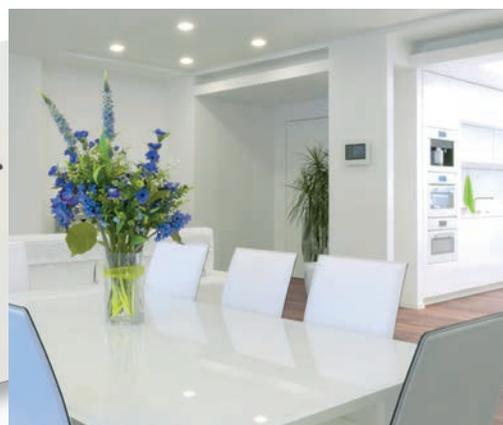

Speciali (Corian®).

A unique finish (Glacier ice) with an eclectic personality that enhances every context. A latest-generation material with a clean look and technological feel that seduces at first glance with its contemporary minimalism.

41 Glacier ice

Raffinati (natural leather).

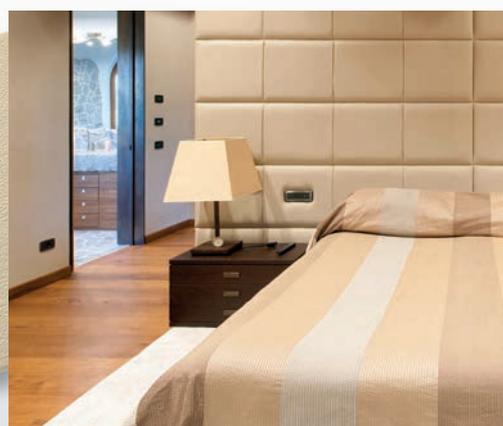

Charm and elegance in its purest form. Soft to touch and attractive to look at. Subjected to wear and tear over time, creating that typical beauty of a "live" material, the cover plates in natural leather are available in two different shades (Cream and Tobacco) that convey the glamour of a genuinely natural material characterised by small imperfections that highlight and enhance its unique quality.

21 Cream

22 Tobacco

Scolpiti (carved stone).

Strong and decisive, the quartzite used for Eikon Tactil, is a unique material that presents the cover plate in all its solemn physicality. Clean cuts, from a quartz-based rock, with a refined look that derives its natural beauty from the delicate and unique grain of each product. Particularly resistant to wear and tear, it can be widely used both inside and outside buildings.
